BRYERS LLP

European Patent, Trade Mark & Design Attorneys

Catherine Lichota

European & Chartered Patent Attorney,
Member of The Institution of Engineering and Technology

My relationship with Conceptualise started over 12 years ago. In the beginning, Nigel Chute of Chute Design was preparing drawings I needed for patent applications I was filing and I was providing patent searching for clients of Chute Design...some of whom then wanted to file a patent application!

It soon became clear how we could work together towards the same aim, and how beneficial it could now be for Conceptualise's clients to have my input at the earliest possible stage as to what may be protected (such as inventions, brand names, logos), by which type of intellectual property right (patent, trade mark, design and copyright rights) and how using intellectual property protection can help in the process of taking an idea towards a commercial reality.

I am now part of the experienced and proactive team at Bryers, based in Bath, and we provide a full range of tailored services, from guiding you through obtaining intellectual property rights in the UK and overseas to helping you with issues involving infringement, ownership or matters involving other people's intellectual property.
